Lamar Triplett Elected President Senior Class

Lamar Triplett, one of State Teachers College's best-known students, was elected president of the Senior Class for the current term in a meeting held recently. Mr. Triplett is a graduate of Gadsden High School where he finished with honors in 1935.

The new Senior leader was a darkhorse entry into the race and mustered surprising strength to win the almost unanimous support of his classmates. In a brief statement following his election, Triplett expressed his gratitude to the class for the high honors bestowed upon him, and he pledged his entire energies to the interests of the Senior Class.

Triplett's elevation to the head of his class is the result of four years of meritorious service to State Teachers College. He is the pianist for all college musical programs and is the organizer of the Jacksonville State Collegians, an outstanding swing band of North Alabama. He is a member of the Calhoun Literary Society, the Glee Club, and the French Club.

Henry Lee Greer, also a Gadsden boy, will occupy the place of Senior vice-president. He is one of the most popular students on the campus and his election met with approval throughout the school. He plays guard on the grid team and sings in the Glee Club.

Iris Dodd, of Douglas, in a landslide vote, was elected secretary-treasurer. Miss Dodd has achieved a scholastic record par excellence in her four-year stay at Jacksonville.

Wallace Nabors of Glencoe, as class reporter, will handle the publicity for the class during the coming year. Senior representatives on the Student Social Committee will be listed elsewhere in the Teacola.

I. R. C. Selects Its Fall Term Leaders

The International Relations Club met Thursday night with Dr. Glazner and Mr. McCluer at Bibb Graves Hall. After R. P. Steed, acting president, had explained the broad objectives of the club, seven persons were admitted as new members. This was followed by an election of officers. Those chosen to serve during the current quarter were: Wallace Nabors, president; Harry Frost, vice-president; Iris Dodd, secretary-treasurer; and Ted York, reporter.

Wallace Nabors gave an interesting talk on "Hitler's Rise to Power," and the entire group joined in a round-table discussion of the European crisis.

Capt. Colvin Suffers Injury In T.P.I. Tilt

The entire student body were grieved when they heard that our football captain, Ed Colvin, had been lost to the Eagle Owls for the rest of the season as a result of a broken bone in his right leg. The accident occurred in the first quarter of the T. P. I. game.

CALVERT NAMED ADVISER

ENGLISH PROFESSOR TEACOLA HEAD FOR FALL TERM

Dr. William J. Calvert, professor of English at State Teachers College has been named faculty adviser, for The Teacola.

Dr. Calvert holds a bachelor's degree from Virginia Military Institute and a Ph.D. from Harvard. Before coming to Jacksonville in 1933, Dr. Calvert was a member of the faculties of Williams College, Washington and Lee University, and the University of California at Los Angeles.

The Teacola salutes its new leader and welcomes him into the Teacola fold.

Women's Clubs Hold State Meeting Here

The Second District of the Alabama Federation of Women's Clubs met at Bibb Graves Hall this week for the twenty-fourth annual convention. A full two-day program of meetings was well attended by delegates from all parts of Alabama.

Mrs. J. E. Jordan of Sylacauga, presided over the convention. She is the State president of the organization. She was assisted by Mrs. A. J. Kitchens, general chairman of local committees, and many more Jacksonville women served on the program committees.

The convention theme for the year was "Human Welfare." Many interesting lectures and exhibits were enjoyed by the delegates to the convention.

JOLLEY HEADS JUNIOR CLASS ORGANIZATION

Managing Editor

HAROLD CARPENTER

Harold Carpenter, of Owen's Cross Roads, is the managing editor of the Teacola this year. Carpenter is serving his third year on the Teacola.

Commanding a decided majority on the initial ballot, Lester Jolley, of Albertville, Alabama, was elected president of the Junior Class for the term 1938-39. Jolley, one of the outstanding students of State Teachers College, has achieved an enviable record during his three years of work here and he commands the absolute respect of his fellow collegians. Jolley is a graduate of the Geraldine High School of Geraldine, Alabama.

Jolley succeeds Aaron Hand, Heflin, as head of the large Junior group. Hand has headed the class for the past two years, and his administration was successful in every respect. Hand was elected to the post of vice-president after he had stepped down from the prexy's chair.

Eleanor McClendon, of Attalla, was re-elected secretary-treasurer. Miss McClendon, an honor student, has held this important office since her freshman days. Eleanor Simmons, of Gadsden, led the ticket for class reporter, and Newell Bailey bested his opponents for the position of Junior representative on the Student Social Committee.

FIRST HOME GAME CLIMAXES PEP DRIVE ON COLLEGE CAMPUS

Teacola Adviser

DR. W. J. CALVERT

Dr. W. J. Calvert, member of the English department of State Teachers College, has been named faculty adviser for The Teacola for the Fall term. Dr. Calvert has been on the State Teachers College faculty since 1933.

Morgan Society Mock Trial Held Here

The Morgan Literary Society recently held a very interesting and amusing travesty on justice in the form of a mock trial. The attorneys crossed verbal swords for one hour much to the delight of the large audience.

Ted York, Adrien Haon, and Robert Steed represented the two factions. Pete Mathews served as judge. Excell Baker, disguised as a woman, was granted a divorce from Otis Mattison.

Dr. Alexander Pays Campus Brief Visit

Dr. Thomas Alexander, president of New College, Columbia University, was on the Jacksonville campus Monday and conferred briefly with Dr. Daugette.

Dr. Alexander, considered an expert in the field of curriculum study, lectured extensively at the College during the summer term. His plans call for a monthly visit to the college throughout the year.

Entrance To Campus Soon To Be Completed

Paving and final construction work on the entrance and driveway to the College is rapidly nearing an end, and the project will be completed within ten days, according to the announcement made today. The project as slated includes completion of the entrance gates, paving of the drive, and erection of the "White Way."

Finishing touches will soon be put on the landscaping in front of Bibb Graves Hall.

Coach "Dizzy" Dillon's State Teachers College Eagle-Owls will appear before the hometown fans for the first time this season Tuesday afternoon when the Snead Praying Parsons invade the local stadium for the 1938 renewal of the bitter football rivalry.

The Jacksonville team will be handicapped somewhat for the tussle since it will be the second game for them within four days. The locals will tangle with the strong Marion Cadets Friday afternoon on foreign soil. The loss of Captain Ed Colvin from the Owl rearworks threw a monkey wrench into the running attack of the Jax team, and his loss will be keenly felt in the Snead struggle. Jacksonville, however, will be in a revengeful mood in the battle Tuesday afternoon, and will be attempting to atone for the 7-0 upset which Snead pulled on their home lot last fall. Lawson's charges are rated as one of the best aggregations in the history of the Boaz institution, and press reports indicate that they have been pointing for the Jacksonville game all season.

Dillon and Dawson will pin their hopes largely in the running ability of Francis Britton and Estes Hudson. These lads have been the chief ground gainers for the club all the year and both will be in fine running fettle against the Parsons. Clyde Driskill or Tom White, passing aces, together with Excell Baker will round out the starting backfield.

Repeated injuries to various members of the squad make the naming of the starting line-up a hazardous task at the moment. James "Gary" Hill, sophomore sensation, who has played superlative football all year, is a certain starter at an end post, and he will probably team with Charles "Pete" Mathews at the flanks. Ralph Williams and Bobby Felgar, a pair of 200 pounders, will hold the tackle posts and the opposition will have a tough time running over the two stalwart Owls. Alternate Captain Henry Greer and Wimpy Jones, Jacksonville's streamlined guards, will open the contest, but Buck Hill with his 190 pounds of displacement will doubtless see plenty of service in the fracas. Aaron Hand will play the center position in his usual capable manner.

Snead will feature a deceptive running and passing game built around Captain Sammy Strickland, former Albertville High School star. The visitors operate the celebrated squirrel cage shift to perfection and a varied style of grid action will be on display at Daugette Field.

Pep meetings, bonfires, and parades will be a portion of the pre-game goings-on on the Jacksonville campus this week-end. The cry of "Get Snead" is already echoing through the hills surrounding this usually quiet town.

The largest crowd ever to witness a football game in Jacksonville is expected to be on hand for the kick-off slated for 2:30 p.m.

BETTER TEACOLA MOVEMENT

Informal discussion among students has initiated a movement on the campus for some changes in our school newspaper. This movement is a timely one, we feel, because it indicates a spirit of initiative within the student body. In later years this spirit of initiative will be a part of those who are now students, and the communities in which they find themselves will benefit when changes are needed. The question is immediately asked as to what the changes will be. We, the staff, hope to have a student newspaper with a balance of features, and campus news, as well as news, editorials, and comedy.

There are always reasons for doing anything, and there are definite reasons for this movement. The first reason is the desire to create more student initiative. As students, we are willing to write something for the paper if some one will tell us what to write. But what good is that? Any one can write something about anything. That, however, is the very thing that the new movement is seeking to eliminate.

The second reason for these changes is a desire to stimulate more interest in campus activities. Who among us has a complete answer when questioned concerning college activities? We do not mean that a student should have an intimate knowledge of everything, but he should have a more specific knowledge about the campus and its activities as a whole. There is a lot of surplus energy on this campus that could be directed into more profitable channels, and the student newspaper should be one of the best outlets for this energy. Through it, the student can know the old questions of what, how, where, why, and when.

A medium for expression of student thought and opinion is needed and these mutations should make the Teacola just that. On this campus we are being trained for future leadership, and if we do not express ourselves while in training, how can we do so when we leave school? Good editorials by students will certainly stimulate the student body to weigh the opinions of others and to better form their own. We, the staff, invite your written opinions.

We earnestly solicit the cooperation of the student body in this movement, and we welcome your constructive suggestions and criticisms at all times. Don't wait for a staff member to ask you, but tell him first. Student representatives are always welcome at staff meetings. Feel free to voice your thoughts.

YOUR LIFE AT STAKE

Students of State Teachers College, you are beginning a new school year in troubled times.

While you are preparing for peaceful pursuits, in Europe men and women your age are preparing for war. Like you, they wanted to be engineers, farmers, and teachers. They wanted peace but have none. They wanted security but have none. They are living on the crater of a volcano they did not create. It is a heritage of the World War.

Most of you, like most European students, were born during the World War. That event and its consequences dominate your lives. When you speak of it, you speak in the past tense. "The war was horrible." "Civilization was shaken."

Yet, stop and look at the person sitting beside you. You and he are in danger of becoming part of another "lost civilization," for you have come into full inheritance of the present tense. If Europe goes to war, and this nation with it, you will carry the burden of the attack. Your dreams of self-betterment will burst with the fragments of shells.

Focus your eyes on what needs to be done in America. In your classrooms, laboratories, and libraries let one fundamental question dominate your thoughts as you go through the school year. What can I contribute to my country in talents and attitudes which will enable it to enjoy freedom, peace and plenty? Your contributions may vary in degrees of importance, but the constancy of that question will enable all of you to discharge your obligation to the present with honor.

Estes Hudson Elected Soph Class President

Estes Hudson, of Hackleburg, Alabama, was re-elected president of his class at a recent meeting of the Sophomores. Hudson headed the Freshman class last year, and his fine work was justly rewarded by his classmates. Hudson is one of the star athletes of State Teachers College. He is a three letter man, and stars in three sports—football, basketball, and baseball.

Otis Mattison of Anniston, was elected vice-president. Mattison is a member of the Morgan Literary Society and the Teacola staff. He was a member of the Morgan debating team in his freshman year.

Jewell Steed received the place of secretary-treasurer, and Betty McDowell was re-elected to the Student Social Committee.

Be Systematic

Recently a forest fire has been burning and smoke fills the air. This is waste just typical of what many of our college students are now doing. I wonder if that contemporary writer wasn't right when he said: "America doesn't give a damn."

Getting an education may be compared with saving a large sum of money from a small beginning. How did Rosenwald do it? How do many average people do it? Can you suddenly acquire a large sum of money, or anything else that is valuable? I doubt it. The way to save money is to be systematic. I don't mean to imply that you should plan everything as though you were settling yourself to run as a machine; but one may be systematic without that.

In the case of saving, save a little here and a little there as you have the opportunity. In time of plenty you naturally can save more than in times of scarcity. So it is in getting an education. Assimilate a fact here and learn a truth there. Learn a few words every day and consciously make an effort to form orderly habits and soon it becomes natural and not a task. In times of plenty such as we are enjoying now, act accordingly and lay away plenty.

Fellow students, don't waste your time. Time is the stuff life is made of; you have so much, no more.

"Gather ye rosebuds while ye may, Old Father Time is still a'flyin'."

Be systematic.

Play Day Set For Oct. 22

Plans for the fall high school girls play day have been announced by Alice Hamric, chairman of the Women's Athletic Association. This occasion, an annual event since 1932, will be held Saturday, October 22. It is promoted by the Alabama High School Athletic Association and the State Department of Education. The Jacksonville Play Day will be one of the nineteen held in the state during the month of October.

Invitations will be sent to all junior and senior accredited and unaccredited high schools of the Jacksonville section. This section is number 2, District 6, and includes Calhoun, Cherokee, Cleburne, Etowah, Randolph and St. Clair counties. Each school will be invited to send eight girls (four Jr. I-II and four Jr. III-Sr. High). All schools of the section using the state athletic association Point System will receive a special invitation to send all girls eligible by the Point System-Play Day regulation. Schools of this group are Anniston, Etowah County High at Attalla, Pell City, and Odenville.

THAT FOOTBALL TEAM

By COACH C. C. DILLON

J. S. T. C.'s 1938 football team is learning a new style of play. They have been at it for a month, and their progress has been all that could be asked. On defense, they have developed most rapidly. With each game the players improved, until now it is a very good team indeed that can gain consistently against them.

James Hill and Louis Machen, on the ends, have learned to stop attempts at end runs. They stand out strongly in our defensive play. At tackles, Bob Felgar and Ralph Williams interpose their 200 pounds of avoirdupois, each, to attempts to drive over those important positions. Their improvement since the first game has been very rapid. They are just beginning to realize what they can do to the opposing team's plays when they throw their full power against them. At the guard positions, our old stand-bys, Henry Greer and Herschel Jones, are playing very good ball to take care of attacks on the center of our line. They are ably assisted by Aaron Hand at center, who also is a veteran at his position. Vesta Hill possibly has made the greatest improvement in the past two weeks of all on the team. With his weight and speed, he has found himself to be a match for the best of them. He will soon give the other Jax linemen a hard run for their positions. Already, though he has played in but five football games in his life, he is a very good substitute for Jones and Greer.

In the backfield, Colvin has been a stand-out. His natural ability, weight, and speed have made him invaluable to his team. Both offensively and defensively, he has played a great part in the strong showings made by the team against three strong S. I. A. A. leading teams. He was our punter, passer, ball carrier, defensive fullback, and captain. Only his teammates can know what a huge gap his injury makes in our team.

Britton, next to Colvin, is the fastest man on the team. His competitive spirit and determined play go far toward keeping his teammates in there fighting all the time. He was one of the mainstays of last year's team. Baker, shifted from center to fullback in Colvin's place, did heroic duty last Friday. His defensive play in the injured Machen's position was some of the best in the entire game. He is one player who can efficiently fill any and all of the positions on the team. He is having his best year. We are confident that he will go far toward making up for Colvin's loss in the fullback position. Estes Hudson, playing his first year on the team, is performing like a veteran. His defense and ball-carrying last Friday were the best seen. His blocking of opponents for our runners is great, and his tackling is the hardest exhibited by any of our hard fighting Eagle-Owls. Clyde Driskill, shifted from end to the backfield to fill the shoes of Frank Bassett (who has left to take a teaching position) is one of the most effective defensive men on the squad. His fighting spirit insures him a place on the team at all times. His passing and punting are the best we have to offer at the present time. He is fast improving in both these important phases of play. Bassett was one of our most flashy players both on defense and offense. We hate to see him go at this time.

Besides those players who are playing regularly, we have a few boys who have just come to our rescue. They are Raymond Hodges, Tom White, Newbern Dendy, Pete Mathews, Harold Carpenter, Roy Bence and Chester Stricklin. Lack of experience and lateness in reporting for the team hold them back at present, though a number of them show promise of considerable worth to the team before the season ends.

One of the most severe losses the team has encountered this year has been the disabling of Theo Lauderdale, whose bad tonsils had him so low in vitality when the season commenced that a bruise received in the first game developed into a serious case that took him to the hospital and out of town for weeks. His power and fight would have been of tremendous value to the team in these last two games. He is one of our very best.

The coaches of the Jacksonville team wish to pay tribute to one of the gamest, hardest fighting, most determined teams that we have ever seen. In every game, though handicapped by greenness and competing against teams that are distinctly above our present class, our men have put up a courageous, admirable exhibition. They have developed with very unusual rapidity. So fast had they learned their lessons that it was with confidence of an even chance of victory that their coaches sent them into the game against Tennessee Tech. The playing of the game confirmed them in their high estimate of their team's ability. It seems highly probable that with their full strength in the game our team might very likely have won the decision. But a major injury to Ed Colvin in the first three minutes, followed by minor injuries to Britton, Machen, Bassett and Jones before the game got very old, robbed them of any chance of doing more than holding down the score.

The highly pleasing thing about their playing in that game, and their attitude and spirit since the defeat, is that they have shown and reshown an indomitable spirit, such as few teams attain. They cannot be denied victory where the odds are not too completely against them. Look out, Marion, Snead, Troy, and all the rest.

Such a team deserves the whole-hearted support of all lovers of the game, in both the college and the town.

JAX Y.W. AND Y.M.C.A. STUDENTS ATTEND FINE STATE ASSEMBLY

Camp Grandview, near Montgomery, was the scene of gay activity as students representing eleven Alabama colleges attended the state "Y" Conference there. The lovely autumn banquet held in the Camp dining hall Friday evening, October 7, marked the opening, and the short lecture centering around "Christ on our Campus," by Dr. Hutson, Professor of New Testament at Birmingham-Southern, on Sunday morning, October 9, marked the close of the Conference.

Many outstanding State and regional speakers, among whom were Dr. Trenholm, colored President of the Montgomery State Teachers College; Miss Willet, Regional Secretary at Atlanta; Dr. Farmer, "Y" Director at Alabama College for Women; Dr. Gallagher, President of Talladega College for the Colored; Miss Salor, Recreational Director at Alabama College for Women; Dr. Searcy, President of Huntingdon College; Jim Hardwick, State "Y" Secretary; and many others made outstanding contributions to the conference.

Various types of recreation blended well with the rustic atmosphere of the Camp. The invigorating air, altitude, vigorous exercise, excellent food, inspirational and informational talks, and friendly companionship made this one of the best and most helpful Conventions yet held. Huntingdon College was the hostess.

After the close of the Conference, the Jacksonville delegation, which included Professors Leon McCluer and Charles M. Gary, and Virginia Thrash, Avon Jordan, Martha Owen, Iris Dodd, John Warren, R. P. Steed, James Wharton, and Adrien Haon, spent an afternoon of sight-seeing in Montgomery.

Fire on the Mountain

By LEON McCLUER
(The following poem which appeared in slightly altered form in the Anniston Star a few years ago is reprinted by request of students in Geography 403 classes during the past summer.)

Across the mountain slope there burns a fire.
It winds along over hollow and ridge
As some dread serpent striking high and higher;
It crossed the stream—nor wanted any bridge.
There on the blackened hillside burning, see
Behind that first onrush of bright red flame,
A thousand twinkling lights—each one a tree—
A thousand torchlights to our awful shame.
A thousand thousand glowing fun'ral pyres
Burn on, while each consumes our wealth of wood.
There seethe, and hiss, and roar, inferno's fires
All down the glen where fairest forest stood.
Ten million dollars thus went up in smoke;
Ten million dollars more will go this year.
And yet we cry, complain, and hoarsely croak
That Nature seems no more to hold us dear.

The Spoiler

By LEON McCLUER
Sunday was a perfect day;
Autumn made a bid to stay.
Azure sky with tint of haze;
Mellow sun's low slanting rays.
Balmy air with touch of tang;
Wind that whistled as it sang.
Poplar, chestnut, oak, all brown.
Gave it cloak of red and green.
Field and meadow, grass and weed,
Sere of leaf, had gone to seed.
Then came man—all Nature's foe—
Saying grass and leaves must go!
Piled them high with fiendish zeal,
Struck a match upon his heel.
Now grey ash, and specter bare
Confront those who travel there.
Bird and beast no shelter find,
Because man won't use his mind.

To Burn or Not To Burn By LEON McCLUER

A burning question confronts the people of Alabama. This question is in its most acute form in Calhoun and similar northern counties, and in the southern coastal plain. The annual destruction wrought by fires in Alabama will be the theme of a series of short discussions in all issues of the Teacola.

An aroused public will be our only salvation.

S. S. S.

By FRANCES INGRAM

The day: Any crisp, fall Friday or Saturday.

The time: Afternoon or night.

The scene: A large field lined in white, with eleven men facing eleven other men, all in exact position.

The object: A brown pigskin ready for the toe of some husky's shoe.

The game: Football.

The referee's whistle sounds shrilly and with a rush of activity the game is on. Does your pulse run high with excitement? If not, you certainly are not a normal human being.

From observation, the greatest fault with J. S. T. C. is lack of football spirit. The game, the players, the score are never mentioned in any way. What is the matter? Don't you love your team, or are you ashamed to boost it? True, students do not know much about the football squad, and thus far the boys have not taken any overwhelming victories. Just a little push from the student body might prove to be a great help.

Are pep meetings barred? Would it be such a breach of college etiquette to turn ten minutes of a Chapel Assembly into a good, old-fashioned P-E-P roundup? If so, what is wrong with the Morgans meeting the Calhouns halfway between Weatherly Hall and Bibb Graves Hall and the two societies exercising their lungs in a big way? If these things are not possible, you as an individual student can help the team immensely. Tell everybody whom the boys are to play, when, where, and how they play, and explain who the "big shots" of the squad are.

Spirit, enthusiasm, has never hurt any one, and you have no idea how much encouragement it gives to those in the midst of the battle.

Half the game may be won from the sidelines.

SHOW SOME SPIRIT !!!

We would like to go on record as expressing the need for escalators and for ironing out some of the mountains that we have to climb to get to school. The reason is to avoid development of mountain goat complexes among the students.

IT'S A FORWARD PASS . . .

You can call the play yourself . . . when you see the Varsity "catch" of the season stepping up towards you and you're wearing one of the interesting black frocks from MANGEL'S famous week-end collection.

After Saturday's game, something sophisticated, is all the go. Down at MANGEL'S, the black dresses are decidedly streamline in an exclusive dressmaker fashion. A flash of color gives them new chic. They are cut in a way above the waist to accent the shorter skirts. All this goes to make pretty legs even prettier. Contrast your uniform campus clothes with MANGEL'S week-enders. Marion Cadets On Teachers Grid Menu Friday

DILLON'S GRID SQUAD SEES VICTORY TODAY

The Jacksonville varsity football team left Thursday for Marion, Alabama, where it will clash with the stepping Cadets of Marion Military Institute Friday night. The squad as a whole is in good shape for the tussle with the Cadets and Dillon and his men are anticipating their first victory of the year Friday night under the lights.

Marion copped a bitterly fought contest from the Teachers here last season in one of the biggest upsets of the year. The Owls are in no mood to be caught napping again and the Jacksonville attack is expected to be functioning in its most consistent manner against the Soldiers.

CHATTER

It is reliably reported that "Rat" Davis, upon returning from a date with a "Bull Rat's" heart throb, found a brother in his bed, phylum: Chordata, species: rodenta. In short it was a mouse. It was further alleged that Davis was in such a state of mind that he crowded in, with the admonition, "No biting or gouging in the clinches."

Shine Baker didn't really get his face scratched up in a football game at all. Upon investigation it has been found that he has been wooing a gal named Rush. We hereby award Lusk a piece of sour kraut to assuage his grief. 'Tis hard to lose one's best girl.

FRANCIS BRITTON

Leading Jacksonville's offensive maneuvers in the crucial Snead battle on the local gridiron Tuesday will be Francis "Great" Britton, stellar halfback. Britton, a dazzling broken field runner and a demon at the art of returning punts, will be appearing before the home fans for the third year in the scrap against the Parsons. The battle promises to be the best of the year for the fans here.

Cage Schedule Being Arranged Rapidly

One of the most attractive basketball schedules in the history of the school is being worked out for the State Teachers College cagers, according to an authoritative announcement made here today.

Coach Julian Stephenson will send his lads into their first test December 13, and several games will be played prior to the Xmas holidays. One of the biggest attractions of all will be the annual tussle with the Original Celtics. This game will be played January 16.

Among the teams already booked for the season are: Centenary College, Howard College, Perliss Mills, Piedmont College, Union University, Southwestern University, Livingston State Teachers College, Marion Military Institute, South Georgia Teachers College, Spring Hill College, Tennessee Polytechnic Institute, Chattanooga Mills, Louisiana Normal College, Original Celtics, Olsen's Red Heads (Girls), and Snead Junior College.

Watch the Teacola for further details of basketball schedules. Jacksonville should have one of the greatest fives in years.

Frosh Gridders Face Livingston In Season Opener

The Frosh footballers of State Teachers College, coached by Red Dawson, will open their season Saturday afternoon playing the State Teachers College at Livingston, Alabama. This game will be an exceptionally tough assignment for the Plebes since the team they will face is the Livingston varsity.

The Baby Owls will feature a slashing running attack built around Pope and Small, who have been outstanding in the early season workouts of the first-year lads.

COACH C. C. DILLON

C. C. "Dizzy" Dillon, head football coach at Jacksonville State Teachers College, is one of the South's foremost grid strategists. Dillon, rated as one of the most brilliant backs ever to cavort for the University of Illinois, formerly tutored the Howard Bulldogs and other leading teams in the South. He will direct Jacksonville's attack against Snead Tuesday.

Playing their hearts out in a losing cause, a crippled Jacksonville State Teachers College eleven dropped a tough 21-0 decision to the strong and resourceful grid combine from Tennessee Polytechnic Institute on the latter's field. The score fails to indicate the narrow margin of superiority which the winners held over Dillon's hard-fighting lads. The score at the half was 7-0 against Jacksonville. Early in the contest, Jacksonville lost Capt. Colvin, who broke the small bone in his right leg. Two thirds of the Eagle-Owl power plays were centered around the 185-pound triple-threat, and his injury almost shattered the Teachers' offensive.

Superior reserve strength proved to be the margin of victory for T. P. I. The Tennesseans are annually among the foremost teams in the S. I. A. A., and this year is no exception. Jacksonville simply met a better team at Cookeville. The Techmen will be on the long end of many scores this season.
